Producing with method, having a cook's mindset

Istà is a food industry company specialized in the production of plant-based preserves for major Italian and European operators. We rely on structured and certified processes designed to guarantee steady supply, reliable output, and consistent quality.

Our production method is based on:

- Stable, traceable and constantly monitored processes
- Cooking techniques that preserve the flavor, colour and integrity of raw materials
- High and verifiable quality standards
- Operational flexibility, to respond quickly to customer needs

We produce with the reliability of an industrial facility and the attention to detail of those who truly understand cooking.

Expertise that turns into a recipe

Every choice we make is guided by quality, from the selection of raw materials to the recipe formulation. We work with carefully selected ingredients, combining culinary expertise with industrial precision.

Each product is created to guarantee:

- A consistent and recognizable sensory experience
- Visual and chromatic freshness of the raw ingredients
- Authentic flavor and balanced texture
- Food safety and full traceability

Our goal is to create reliable, kitchen-ready products that are consistent over time, designed to optimize our customers' workflow without compromising on quality or safety.

Solutions built together

We are a partner, not just a supplier.

We support our clients by offering technical assistance, adaptability, and customized solutions.

Our services include:

- Private label development and tailored co-packing projects;
- Rapid development of new recipes and optimization of existing formulations;
- Processes aligning to meet specific customer standards;
- Wide packaging flexibility: tins, trays, pouches, and dedicated solutions.

Our approach is practical and results-driven, based on technical expertise, transparency, and operational responsibility.

For us, quality is not an option but a daily commitment.

Each recipe is the result of a balance between culinary expertise, careful selection of raw materials and rigorous control of every stage of production.
